COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF HEALTH FOR GUILFORD

Commissioners Made Appropriation of $2,500
For Salary and Expenses of This Official
--Guilford First County to Take This Step.

At yesterday's session of the County Commissioners an appropriation of $2,500 for the salary and expenses of the county superintendent of health was made. Representatives of the Guilford County Medical Society, Chamber of Commerce, Guilford Teachers' Association and the Farmers' Union appeared before the board and requested that an appropriation be made from the public fund for this purpose.

At the recent session of the legislature a bill was passed empowering the commissioners to employ a physician to give his entire time to the health interests of the county, creating a county board of health under whose supervision the physician would be. The board of health is composed of the chairman of the county commissioners, the mayor of Greensboro, the county superintendent of public instruction and two physicians selected by the three officials mentioned above. The five members are required to meet on next Monday, the second Monday in May, and elect a superintendent of health. As soon as the superintendent is elected he will enter upon his duties.

It is the opinion of those who have investigated the matter that a superintendent of health giving his entire time to the county will be the means of saving considerably more than his salary and expenses. Guilford is the first county in the State to take this step and the work will be watched with interest by every other county in the State.

Dr. A. F. Fortune is the present county superintendent of health, but it is not known whether he would serve if elected as the entire time of the physician elected must be given to the county. And the board of health has not yet discussed the matter so it is not known who the board will elect to this position.

Section 11 of the act creating the county superintendent of health specifies the duties of that official as follows:

"The duties of the county superintendent of health shall be to make the medico-legal post-mortem examinations for the coroners' inquests, to make examination of lunatics for commitment, to render professional service to the sick inmates of the convict camp, jail, and county home, upon request of the superintendent or the keeper of these institutions, and to determine the nature of any particular disease, upon the request of the quarantine or deputy quarantine officer; to make monthly inspections of the aforesaid institutions, and to report, upon blank forms supplied and in accordance with directions furnished therewith by the State Board of Health, the result of these monthly inspections to the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and to the secretary of the State Board of Health, not later than the fifth day of the following month: Provided, that the county superintendent of health shall have the right to employ and to fix the compensation of any other regularly registered physician of his county, to perform any or all of the duties pertaining to the jail, county home, or convict camp, when in his judgment it is desirable to do so: Provided, however, that the county superintendent of health shall still be liable for any failure on the part of the physician contracted with to carry out the provisions: Provided further, that if a county superintendent of health shall be employed to devote his entire time to the county public-health work, he shall perform, in addition to the aforesaid duties, the duties of quarantine officer, and the following additional duties: he shall make a sanitary examination during the summer months of every public-school building and grounds in the county, and no school committee or teacher shall make use of any school building or grounds until the county superintendent of health shall certify in writing that said building and grounds have been inspected and found to be in a satisfactory sanitary condition within four months of the date of the certificate. He shall examine every school child that has previously been examined by the teacher according to methods furnished said teacher by the county superintendent of schools, and reported to said county superintendent of schools as probably defective in the condition of his eyes, ears, nose, or throat, and he shall further endeavor to have examined the fees of every child whom he suspects of having hookworm disease. He shall notify on blank forms and in ac-

VOTERS OF CITY TO SELECT MUNICIPAL OFFICERS TODAY

Much Interest in General Election--Two Candidates for Each Office.

The general election for the selection of commissioners of the city will be held today, the interest in the selection of the three commissioners being quite intense. There are two candidates for each of the commissionerships and they, assisted by their supporters, will be quite active throughout the entire day.

The candidates were chosen in the primary held on Monday, April 24, and since that time they have been actively engaged in getting the voters to pay their poll tax and forwarding their cause. In the primary the candidates were nominated by the following vote and these will be the only candidates voted on today:

For Mayor.

(This includes Commissioner of Accounts and Finance.)

S. H. Boyd, 408; T. J. Murphy, 437.
For Commissioner of Public Safety.
E. A. Brown, 704; J. R. Cutchin, 393.
For Commissioner of Public Works.
J. G. Foushee, Jr., 797; W. T. Sergeant, 446.

For Judge Municipal Court.

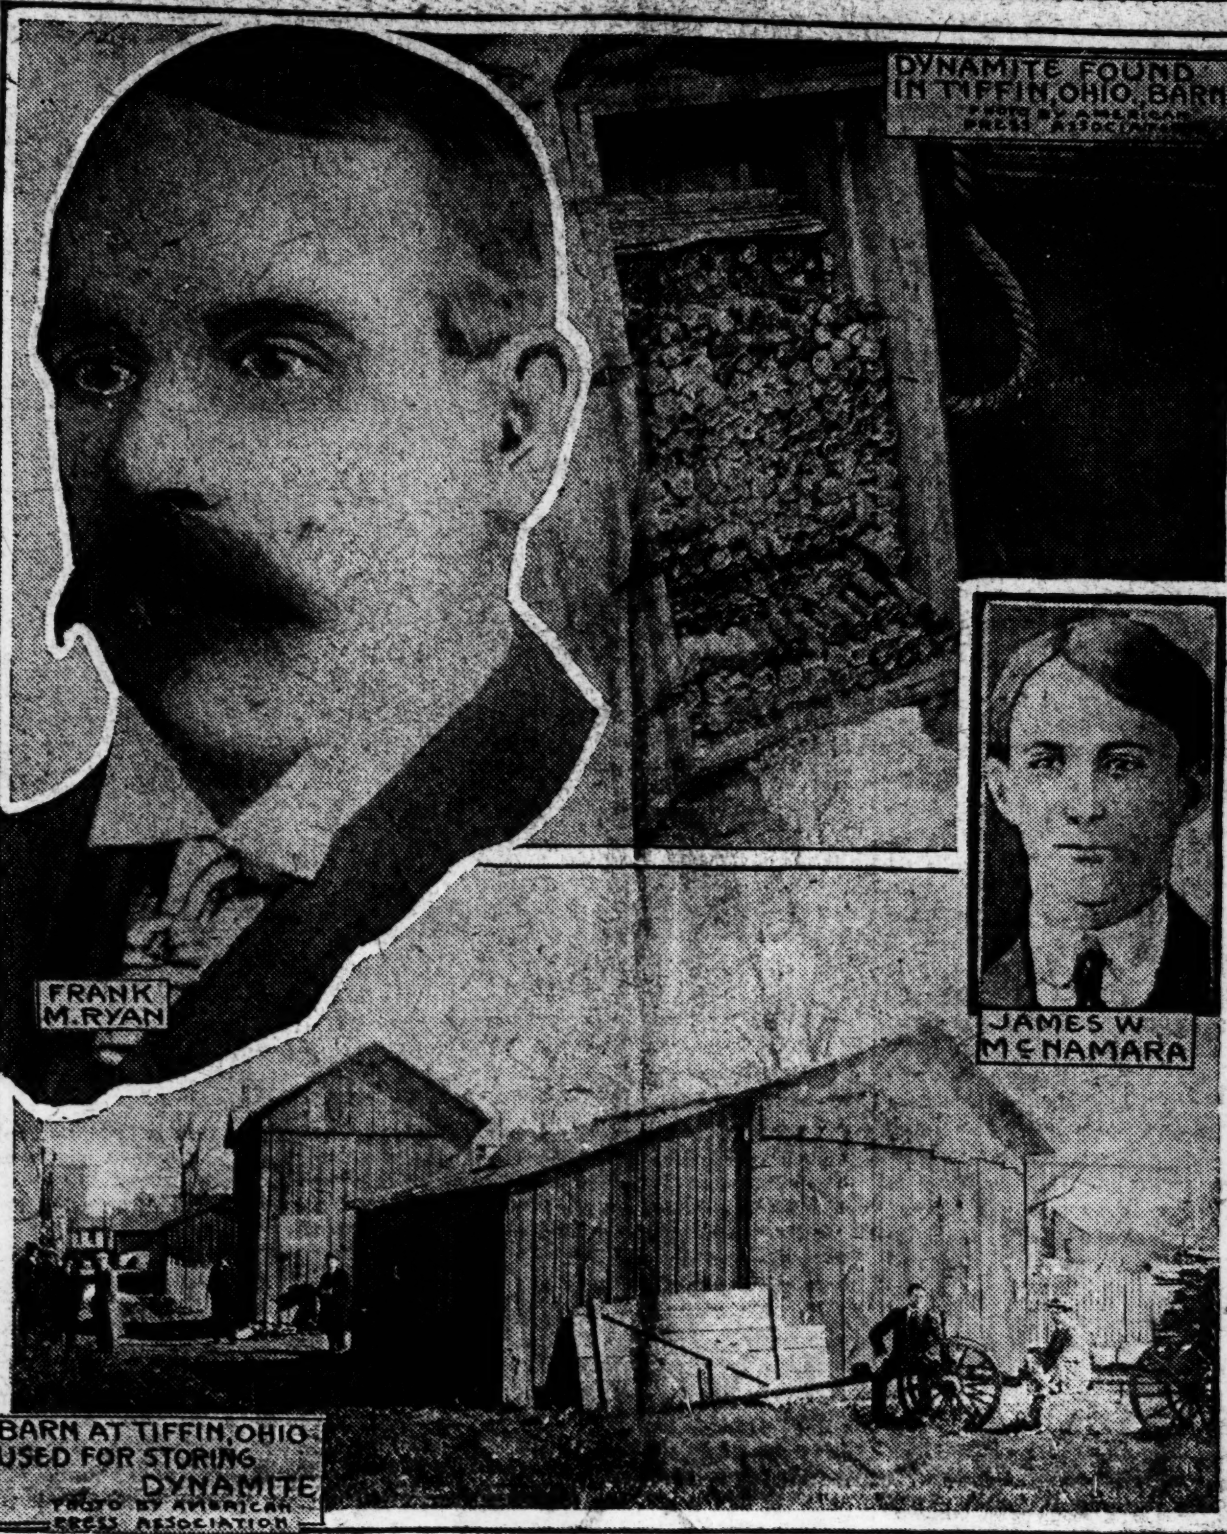

N. L. Eure, 1032. No other candidate for nomination.

The ticket will be made out in the same form as was the ticket used in the primary. The voter will check the person he desires to vote for with a cross mark in the square opposite the name. It is not thought that the vote will be as heavy as it was in the primary on account of the fact that those who have not paid their poll tax will not be qualified to vote. However, the candidates and their friends have prevailed on a large number of voters to pay their poll tax within the past week. Inasmuch as all voters who do not exhibit their tax receipt will be no doubt challenged all who have paid their tax should have their receipt handy in order to save the time that would be taken up in administering the oath.

Those living west of Elm street will vote at the city hall, while those living on the east side of Elm street will vote at the hall of the Eagle Hose Company. The voting will begin at 7 o'clock and continue until sundown.

In accordance with instructions furnished by the State Department of Public Instruction, every parent or guardian of a child having any defect of the aforesaid organs, or hookworm disease, and he shall suggest to said parents or guardian the proper course of treatment and urge that such treatment be procured. He shall cooperate fully with the county board of education, the county superintendent of schools, and the teachers in the public schools, to the end that children may be better informed in regard to the importance of health and the methods of preventing disease. He shall, through the county press, public addresses, and in every available way, endeavor to educate the people of his county to set a higher value on health, and to adopt such public and private measures as will tend to a greater conservation of life. Any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, and shall subject the defendant to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

President of the Ironworkers' Union, One of the Dynamite Prisoners and Explosive Found In Barn

Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, of which John J. McNamara was the secretary-treasurer, denounces the arrest of the latter as "an outrage." James W. McNamara is a brother of John J. and is alleged to have been the chief agent in the carrying out of the dynamiting plots, being assisted by Orrie McManigal. In addition to the barn near Indianapolis which was used for storing dynamite, a barn at Tiffin, O., has been found to contain a large amount of the explosives. It is charged that the barns were rented for this purpose by the McNamaras.

CHARGES

Of Bribery Against Ohio Lawmakers will be Investigated.

Special to Telegram.

Columbus, O., May 1.—Legislative leaders tonight directed Attorney General Hogan to assist Prosecutor E. C. Turner in laying the charges of legislative bribery and solicitation of bribes that are expected to involve more than a dozen representatives and from twelve to eighteen senators before the Franklin county grand jury. The purpose of this move, which is at the instigation of Governor Harmon, is to prevent any possibility of whitewash, which, it is feared, would be given if the legislature was entrusted with the work.

FATE OF NATION WITH IMMIGRANT'S CHILD

Special to Telegram.

Washington City, May 1.—"In the large cities most of the people are the offspring of aliens, and the fate of the nation rests with the immigrant's child." These were the words spoken by Mrs. Samuel C. Barnes of New York, addressing the International Children's Welfare Congress, in session here, this afternoon. Mrs. Barnes stated that in New York four children are born of foreign parents to every one born of parents who are natives of the United States.

Executive Committee Meeting.

The executive committee of the Y. W. C. A. will meet today at 10:30. Board meeting on Thursday at same hour.

WICKERSHAM ATTACKS RECALL AND REFERENDUM

Special to Telegram.

Princeton, N. J., May 1.—George W. Wickersham, attorney general of the United States, in an address before the graduating class of Princeton University tonight attacked the recall and referendum and other quick ways of getting at officeholders. He declared that the Americans of today are in truth law ridden people. "This tendency," he said, "is encouraged and stimulated by those who seek popular favor by pointing to easy remedies for obvious ills. Not satisfied with the ever swelling volume of statutes we are now urged to tinker with the constitution. There is nothing new in this kind of demagoguery."

LIGHT VOTE IN CAPITAL CITY ELECTION

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 1.—Only 445 votes were cast for mayor out of a total of 2,400 registered in the municipal election today. The ballot was cut and dried on the nominees of the recent primary, with only Democratic candidates in the field. However, scattering votes were cast, including E. J. C. Duncan and Josephus Daniels for mayor.

The vote in the main was for the Democratic ticket, headed by James I. Johnson for mayor, Thomas Badger for police justice and others duly nominated. They take up official duties Friday.

POPULAR

Election of Senators Re- ported Favorably by Senate Committee.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, May 1.—A marked victory for the popular election of senators was achieved by Senator Borah in record time today when the proposed constitutional amendment was reported favorably to the Senate at the first meeting of the reorganized committee on judiciary. The measure now takes its place at the head of the Senate calendar and an informal poll of the Senate made by friends of the amendment shows that more than the necessary two-thirds vote can be mustered for it at any time it is put on its final passage.

PROMINENT TENNESSEAN ARRESTED ON GRAVE CHARGE

Charge is Offering Bribe to Representative McDonald--Legislator First Made Public the Accusation--Represents Goodpas-ture's County.

Special to Telegram.

Nashville, Tenn., May 1.—Judge E. C. Goodpasture of Overton county was arrested today on the charge of bribery, in connection with allegations made a few days ago against him by a member of the Tennessee Legislature. He was held in $5,000 bail.

The warrant for Goodpasture's arrest was sworn out by Henry Carr, President of the Tennessee Anti-Saloon League.

Representative McDonald of Overton county, the same county in which Goodpasture lives, charges that Goodpasture offered him $1,500 to vote with the faction known as the "regular Democrats" for the repeal of the Tennessee election laws and the anti-liquor laws.

JOB PRINTERS OF THE CITY FORM ORGANIZATION

Initial Meeting Last Night at Which Offi- cers Were Elected for First Year.

Last night at a meeting of the job printers of the city the Greensboro Typothetae was formally organized, all the job printing establishments in the city being members, excepting one and this one has signified its intention of becoming a member.

The object of the organization is to bring the different job printers in the city in closer touch with each other and to study in unison the methods in vogue in the larger cities in ascertaining the lowest possible cost at which work can be turned out with profit to the printer. The value of the organization was explained by H. W. Flagg, of Chicago, assistant secretary of the American Typothetae, and those present were enthusiastic. One member described the move as one of the most important ever taken by the job printers of Greensboro. The Telegram is asked to emphasize the fact that the organization is not in the least in the nature of a trust, that the members do not get together and fix prices at which printing shall be done, but each member will be free to make such prices in the future as he chooses. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

J. C. Pierce, president; H. M. Blair, first vice president; C. B. Kendall, second vice president; C. G. Harrison, secretary-treasurer.

Prior to the organization a banquet was held in the Clegg Hotel and several speeches made. The printers then adjourned to the directors' room of the Commercial National Bank and the organization effected. Here from other places for the meeting were H. E. Seeman, of Durham; Dr. Chas. Lee Smith, Raleigh; J. O. Boatwright, J. T. Town and Mr. Day, of Danville; E. F. Barker and Mr. Ellis, of Winston.

RAILROAD ALLIANCE

Being Considered by Chesapeake & Ohio and Carolina-Clinch- field--Deal Likely to go Through.

Special to Telegram.

New York, May 1.—Officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railroads have entered into negotiations for the lease of the latter road to the first named system, and the indications are that the deal will be consummated at an early date.

Under the terms of the proposal the construction of the line of the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio from Dante, Va., to Elkhorn, West Virginia, to connect with the Chesapeake and Ohio, will be paid for with funds raised by the former road on securities bearing the guarantee of the Chesapeake and Ohio. The lessee is to be relieved of doing any financing in connection with the deal.

Should the deal go through the Chesapeake and Ohio will gain a strong hold on the coal traffic of the Clinchfield; and making use of the latter's agreement with the Seaboard Air Line, would acquire another tidewater outlet.

Woodrow Wilson looks the part of a college professor and plays the part of a statesman. That beats looking like a politician and acting like a small bore politician.

Congressman Berger wants to shove the United States Senate off the earth. Better plan would be to shove a number of Senators into political oblivion and place some good men in their seats.

Philadelphia burglar has just been sentenced to serve his seventh term in prison. The fact that this man was caught seven times shows just how slow Philadelphia burglars are.

Baltimore wants the next National Democratic convention. Baltimore wants this big political gathering very much, and is conducting a systematic campaign to secure it. The campaign appears to be getting results, too.

Policemen of Cleveland, Ohio, formed a club for the purpose of ousting the chief from his job; and now all the members of the club will lose their jobs. This is a case of the clubbers who clubbed for the purpose of clubbing the chief of the clubbers being clubbed themselves.

Governor Woodrow Wilson rode in a police patrol wagon in Baltimore one day last week. No; the Governor was not under arrest. It has been found impossible to arrest the progress of his Presidential boom, to say nothing of the Governor himself.

"What is meat?" asked Congressman Mann, recently, in a tariff debate in the House. It has been so long since many people have had meat to eat that they cannot be expected to give an intelligent answer to this question, but it will doubtless shock the country to learn that a Congressman has had a similar experience.

The commissioners for Greensboro will be elected today, and soon the public will be able to determine whether the advocates of the commission or those who oppose it are right in their estimate of its value in settling municipal problems. Those who know commission government is going to be a failure are not numerous in the city, but they are vociferous. Every good citizen who is interested in the welfare, the future growth and prosperity of Greensboro trusts that the expectations of the opponents of the commission will not be realized.

THE SPLIT IN THE REPUBLICAN RANKS.

The split in the Republican party between the progressives and the stand-patters seems to be irreconcilable. The differences which arose in the Senate between the two wings of the party in regard to committee appointments directs attention anew to conditions in the party and emphasizes the fact that the insurgents and regulars are not making any progress toward adjusting their differences and getting together, but that the breach between them is growing wider. Last week in the Senate LaFollette of Wisconsin, voicing the sentiments of thirteen Senators, who constitute more than one-fourth of the Republican representation in that body, protested against what the insurgents characterize as the systematic and careful effort of the Republican Senate majority to so form the committees as to prevent the passage of progressive legislation.

In the protest it is clearly pointed out that the marked differences which have been for several years developing in the Republican party in many States are not upon matters of party policy, but "relate to the most important subjects of legislation and the gravest problems which confront the American people." It is stated that this division is not based upon conflicting individual opinions of Senators, but upon "fundamental convictions" involving the welfare of 90,000,000 people.

The attention of the country is invited to the injustice done the progressive Senators in refusing them the representation to which they are entitled upon the important committees of the Senate, particularly the Inter-State Commerce and the Finance Committees, to which must go nearly all the legislation that vitally affects the great masses of the people. Just how the reactionary Senators have "hogged" these two committees for New England is shown, and the statement is made in so many words that as now constituted the control of these committees is placed in the hands of those who are opposed to a thoroughgoing regulation of railroads and to a lessening of the burdens imposed by a high protective tariff.

The 13 Senators who indorsed this protest and whose views were presented by Senator LaFollette, were as follows:

LaFollette, Wis.; Gronna, N. D.; Cummins, Iowa.; Borah, Idaho; Kenyon, Iowa.; Bourne, Ore.; Bristow, Kan.; Works, Cal.; Clapp, Minn.; Crawford, S. D.; Nelson, Minn.; Townsend, Mich.; Brown, Neb.

It will be noticed that every one of these Senators is either from the Middle or Far West. It is in these States that the progressive Republican sentiment dominates. In the East it exists, but it has been smothered and kept down by the power of the formidable reactionary machines. Every one of these 13 men, in his stand against the old organization in the Senate, in his advocacy of real railroad rate regulation, of a lower tariff and the curbing of the big corporations, has behind him the overwhelming sentiment of his State.

Insurgent strength in the Senate was a matter of surprise to the country at large. It had been frequently estimated that the progressive Republicans did not number more than nine or ten, and it was believed that some of these might fail to "stand hatched" at critical points in the extra session and in the next regular session. The attitude of the thirteen insurgents does not, however, substantiate this view. They show all the evidences of being thoroughly determined and of having fixed convictions which they propose to adhere to.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa is a recruit for the progressives, succeeding an unrelenting standpatter. Senator Nelson of Minnesota, who was aligned with the regulars at the last session, has gone over to the progressives, and this gives the insurgent body another able recruit.

In most of their views of national policies the insurgent Republicans stand with the Democrats. Democratic and insurgent Republican ideas about most of the great problems which confront the country are either identical or very similar. This leads to the view, which is said to prevail among the Democrats of the Lower House, that the Democrats in the Senate should have gone to the assistance of the insurgent Republicans in their committee representation fight. The Senate Democrats did nothing during the fight, and the opinion is very general that they missed a fine opening to strike for the party and to ally themselves more closely with the Republicans whose votes will be necessary to help the Democrats in getting legislation through the Senate. This criticism of the minority appears to be well founded. It may possibly be explained by the fact that there are too many standpat Democrats in the Senate, whose views are identical with those of the regular Republicans.

That the Republican party is divided and likely to remain divided is evident. The States from which the insurgent Republican Senators come are almost solidly back of them in their views of public questions, and the thirteen represent, therefore, a very large number of Republican voters. They indirectly represent the views of another large body of Republican voters, who are scattered through the States represented at present by standpat Senators. There appears to be no indication of any movement in Republican progressive ranks to come back to the fold. The progressives are determined to fight it out along that line, apparently. It is safe, therefore, to assume that the Republican party is split to stay split.

A TALK TO SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS.

(By THE NEWSPAPER MAN.)

Mr. Blank:—The Telegram is organizing a branch of the International Press Bible Question Club. In connection with this Club we have a very effectual Bible study plan for your class. It will make each member of your class study the lesson every week. It will also help your average attendance and greatly increase your usual class interest.

The object of the International Press Bible Question Club is to promote thought and investigation, by interesting questions published weekly, in connection with the International Sunday School lessons.

The course of study consists of reading each week the Sunday School Lesson and the "Suggestive Questions" which are based upon the lesson. The reading is to commence on the fourteenth week after the Questions have commenced to be published in the Telegram, and must be kept up for 52 weeks. It commences here with the lesson for Sunday, June 18th. The 13 week's preliminary campaign is to stir the entire community and to get everybody to start the Bible reading contest on the 14th week. To prove that the reading has been done the student is required to cut out and sign a coupon each week certifying to the fact. These coupons must be kept until the end of the course and then handed into the Telegram office. Having done the reading as prescribed, qualifies the student to answer in writing five questions which he may select from 52 Questions, published during the year as Questions which may be answered in writing. The student can get all the help he wants in answering these five Questions. The answers must be plainly signed with the student's name and address and be enclosed in the same envelope as the 52 coupons. When all these returns are in from the public, and the various Sunday School Classes in town, we send them on for examination and award. The awards will be made and the prizes sent to the Telegram to give out as soon as all the returns are in from the District.

There are 50 prizes to be given to each District Club, or Class. Five solid gold medals beautifully engraved, and on which is inscribed the name of the winner, to the first five contestants; five solid silver medals of the same design and size as the gold medal, the next five contestants; five Teachers' Bibles, price $5.50 each, to the next five, and the book, "The Heart of Christianity," price $1.50, to each of the next 35 contestants. Thus you see there are 50 prizes awarded to each district, which means to the four districts there will be given 200 prizes annually. In addition to these valuable prizes for Bible study, there will be awarded to each who actually completes the course, a beautiful three-color diploma like this, certifying to the fact that the course of study has been taken.

You see it is essential for each student to take the newspaper not only to get the Questions, but also to have the necessary coupon to sign each week certifying that the Lesson and Questions have been read.

It is said to be the most practical plan for getting Sunday School pupils, and the masses generally, to study the Bible, that was ever inaugurated.

The value of this course of study is so great that it cannot be over-estimated. To get young people and older ones to come down to the think point every week concerning these great Bible problems will be of more value to them than tongue can tell. You must not forget that absolutely everybody who completes the course of study receives a diploma, which is no mean honor, and which the student will prize in after life as he does few other things. It will be a certificate of character to many a boy and girl in getting positions in life, but its chief value is in the fact of the benefit received by the course of study.

WHAT NORTH CAROLINA EDITORS ARE SAYING.

DEMOCRATS WILL CARRY OUT CAMPAIGN PLEDGES.

Wonder what those people who are trying to persuade the Democrats not to attempt any tariff legislation think the Democrats were elected for any way. The campaign last year was fought from one end of the country to the other on the tariff, and the campaign previous to that was fought largely on the same lines. In the previous campaign the Republicans pledged themselves to revise the tariff downward if given another chance. The chance was given them and they then repudiated their promises and increased the tariff. Because of these broken promises of the Republicans and the Democratic attitude towards the tariff victory was easy for them. They were elected to give the country a more equitable tariff law. Of course the Republicans, and some so-called Democrats, don't want them to do anything. They hope they will utterly fail to carry out their pledges. This is the only hope the Republicans have for success next year, that the Democrats do nothing. But the Democrats have shown that they are not going to be misled by any of these pleas to defer action and also that they are not going to let any internal differences stand in the way of advancing and working unitedly for a program carrying out their campaign promises.—Raleigh Times.

THE DANGER OF GOING BARE-FOOTED.

As the season is now approaching when all children desire to go barefooted, it is well that they should be warned that this pleasure does not come without danger. Until recent years we attached little importance to ground-itch, or toe-itch, so commonly seen among barefooted children who go about in the dew or other damp places. We now know that ground-itch is the initial symptom of hookworm disease and that it would not develop unless the soil had been polluted by sufferers from the disease. The myriads of eggs passing daily along with the excreta from their bodies develop into tiny microscopic worms too small to be seen. These, when allowed to come in contact with the skin, burrow through producing an attack of ground-itch. The truth of this assertion can be easily proved by making a poultice of polluted soil and applying it for a few hours to some part of the body. Always at the site of such a poultice there develops the ground-itch rash if there be a sufficient number of worms entering the skin.

Moreover, it is known that about fifty days after the attack of ground-itch the little worms that entered the skin will have found their way to the small intestine and there developed to a size sufficient for them to be easily seen with the naked eye. They are nearly one-half inch in length. The medicine given to get rid of them, by acting as a poison, causes them to be expelled from the body. By washing the stools through chees cloth they may be collected.

The harm they produce is now too well recognized to require discussion at this time. Suffice it to say that the blood is sapped, the body stunted, the vitality lowered. Thus, the life and happiness of those dearest to us may be blasted. It is now time every one should know what is meant by ground-itch, hookworm disease, polluted soil, and poor sanitary arrangements. Your State Board of Health will be glad to supply this information free to any one who will ask for it.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. are the two greatest foes to digestion—and very few people reach the age of forty without falling a victim to indigestion in some form or other.

Undigested food is a serious menace to health and is the cause of headaches, sleeplessness, flatulency, gas and distress in the stomach, despondency, nervousness, bad breath and impure blood.

In such cases Vinol has a marked beneficial result. It seems to go directly to the seat of trouble, strengthens and tones up the tired, weakened nerves of the stomach, enabling one to digest with ease the very foods that once caused distress.

A case has just come to our attention in Barre, Vt. Mr. Samuel Wheeler suffered with a stomach trouble for years and had taken all kinds of medicines without relief, and at last found a cure in Vinol. He says Vinol was worth five dollars a bottle to him. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

If you suffer from any form of stomach trouble, try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

A Spring Suggestion by a Trained Druggist.

Appendicitis and many other ills come from Constipation and over-loading with food which the system cannot care for. The bowels must be cleared and antiseptised to give their normal functions and this should not be done by strong Cathartics, as every physician will tell you. Vick's Little Liver Pills have been the bowels and mild stimulation to the lazy liver and thus cure trouble in adults and children.

Strange as it may seem, the smallest shoe is a foot long.

That flies are typhoid carriers is not a matter of theory; it was proved during the Spanish-American war beyond the shadow of a doubt.

It has been proved that vegetable matter will furnish food for her larval. The eggs mature in about ten days, and in a season there may be ten or twelve generations; which means that under favorable conditions untold millions of flies may result from the eggs of a single fly.

As it takes ten days for the eggs to hatch, if all matter liable to decay or ferment is removed every five days and properly disposed of, the breeding places will be eliminated, and it will be seen that if we protect all food and destroy all refuse, the fly will starve.

The stable should be kept in a clean condition.

Dish-water should never be thrown on the ground in the vicinity of the kitchen. It feeds an army of flies ready to invade the house. Refuse of all kinds should be burned if possible, or if removed by the municipalities, should be kept in air-tight garbage-cans, which when emptied, should be disinfected by boiling water, a solution of chloride of lime or kerosene.

Too much precaution cannot be taken in regard to the sick-room. Doors and windows should be screened, and if a fly should get in, he should be killed, and not driven out perhaps to infect some innocent neighbor.

The greatest care should be taken to disinfect the dejecta of the sick and the directions of the attending physician followed to the letter.

Food which is placed on the table should always be protected from flies, either by placing a napkin over it or using a cover.

There are some good ways to kill flies. One way is to heat a shovel and drop thereon twenty drops of carbolic acid. The vapor kills the flies.

The latest, cheapest and best fly-poison is a solution of formalin or formaldehyde in water. A spoonful of this liquid put into half a cupful of water and exposed in the room, will kill all the flies.

The following rules published by the Merchants' Association of New York, are so good that we can suggest no better work for women's clubs, than to reproduce them on cards and distribute them broadcast.

Keep the flies away from the sick, especially those ill with contagious diseases. Kill every fly that strays into the sick-room. His body is covered with disease germs.

Do not allow decaying material of any sort to accumulate on or near your premises.

All refuse which tends in any way to fermentation, such as bedding straw, paper waste and vegetable matter, should be disposed of or covered with lime or kerosene.

Screen All Food.

Keep all receptacles for garbage carefully covered and the cans cleaned or sprinkled with oil or lime.

Keep all stable manure in vault or pit screened or sprinkled with lime, oil or other cheap preparation.

See that your sewage system is in good order; that it does not leak, is up-to-date and not exposed to flies.

Pour kerosene into the drains. Cover food after a meal; burn or bury all table refuse.

Screen all food exposed for sale.

Screen all windows and doors, especially the kitchen and dining-room.

Burn pyrethrum powder in the house to kill the flies.

Don't forget, if you see flies, that their breeding-places is in near-by filth. It may be behind the door, under the table or in the cuspidor.

If there is no dirt and filth, there will be no flies.

If there is a nuisance in the neighborhood it would be advisable to write at once to the health department.

The millions of Cascaret users never know the misery of Headache, Coated Tongue or Sick Stomach.

You know when you need Cascarets. You feel a certain dullness and depression—perhaps the approach of a headache. You say, "I am bilious and I must take something tonight." But why do you waste the day? It is easy to keep at your best at all times if you'll do it. The way is to carry a box of Cascarets with you. Take one just as soon as you need it. Then the clouds rise at once.

The need for Cascarets is a natural need. Don't think that you are drugging yourself. We must get a laxative some way. If we don't get it through exercise and through proper food, we must get it otherwise. Cascarets are the next best way.

Ask your doctor about it. He will tell you that the day of the violent purgatives, such as calomel, pills, salts, castor oil and cathartics, is past. This is the day of the gentle in medicine, the natural, the pleasant. Cascarets act just as certain foods act—just as exercise acts—on the bowels—on the liver.

JEWELLED PEWTER.

Work Has Great Fascination For European Women.

IS TAUGHT IN CLASSES.

Wonderful Imitations of Precious Stones, Egyptian Scarabs and Many Other Objects Possible to the Skilled Worker in Pewter.

The ornamentation of pewter, brass and copper has always had a great fascination for women. They were undeterred by the time it took to study the work, the arduous labor which was required to execute any given design, the hammering, heating and necessarily soiling of hands, the exceptional artistic capability this work as much as any other craft required from the student.

It must be understood at once that only those who are artistically gifted can even now attain any result worth achieving, and draftsmanship is an asset by no means to be despised. The actual workshop with its furnace and other appliances is, however, an unnecessary adjunct to jeweled pewter work as it will be described in this article. A small table in the drawing room can be devoted to this work, and the student can take it up or lay it down when interrupted by visitors without being ashamed to let her hands be seen or fearing that the work will suffer.

This particular treatment of pewter, brass and copper has been enthusiastically taken up on the continent of Europe for some time. A friend of the writer, traveling for a long while on the continent, came across it in Switzerland. She saw it again in Berlin and in Paris. At last she settled down to learn the craft. Regular classes are given by proficient teachers, and the hold it has taken on French people was exemplified by no fewer than thirty showcases of jeweled pewter were exhibited last summer in the New salon. The work shown there was mainly confined to beautiful imitation Viennese caskets, a few frames and some artistic imitation jewelry.

Pewter is the softest of the three metals mentioned above, and to its similarity of appearance to silver is probably due the preference given to this metal by workers who naturally study their market.

The metal is bought in thin sheets which are specially prepared for the work. It is always fixed on to a solid foundation, and this precludes it from being confused with solidly hammered metal work of any kind. The jeweled pewter hobby is not only ornamental, but can be turned by any woman with artistic capabilities into excellent uses.

Paris excels in supplying wonderful imitations of precious and semiprecious stones, which add so much to the beauty of pewter work. Egyptian scarabs, which Paris manufacturers, are exquisitely soft and provide decoration for an almost unending range of objects d'art. In fact, there is nothing the student who has properly mastered her art cannot attempt, from an electric lamp shade down to a hatpin or a button to fasten her jacket with.

Very few implements are necessary for this work. Tools for line drawing, modelling, punching (two or more of different sizes are required), two spatulae for smoothing surfaces, a very light hammer and a gimlet are sufficient tools for the beginner.

The student will want a board to fit the table she decides to work on and according to her designs will want a second underlay of soft felt or baize for certain modelling and a sheet of glass or linoleum where greater resistance is required. Patterns may be bought, but from the very beginning, when once the practice stage is past, the student is advised not necessarily to draw her own designs, but at least to so arrange bought designs that they strike the onlooker as original.

When the pattern has been transferred to the metal the line drawer is used to fix all the outlines of it. Both hands are required to give the necessary strength in thus drawing the pattern. When this is successfully accomplished the worker turns the metal on its obverse side and begins molding her pattern.

Frocks For the Small Maiden.

Shepherd plaids in black and white and blue and white are always good for children's frocks when enlivened by a bit of color and when properly handled have a delightfully childish and simple air.

Political Debts and Bills. It is all right to pay political debts, but it is pretty hard on the public when it has to foot the bills.—Charlotte News and Courier.

Days Doings of County Commissioners

The regular meeting of the County Commissioners was held yesterday, the major portion of the day being taken up with the consideration of routine matters, such as auditing accounts and approving bills. At today's session road matters will be considered, there being several applications for roads.

At yesterday's session Paul W. Schenck, president of the Guilford Battle Ground Company, made application for a sand clay road across the Battle Ground. The old road is rather muddy in wet weather and a sand road would be a great convenience to those who have to travel over the road besides adding considerably to the attractiveness of the Battle Ground. The commissioners will consider the application today and it is quite likely that the road will be built.

Jurors for the Civil term of Guilford Superior Court, to begin June 5 and continue for two weeks were drawn as follows:

First week—Jas. A. Shepherd, Q. Q. Boon, Robert Reitzel, J. R. T. Caffey, W. H. Gray, C. C. Neese, I. R. Troxler, M. G. Newell, G. S. Fields, J. M. Wilson, Jno. W. Crawford, B. T. Davis, J. H. Wray, Jno. T. Stewart, J. H. Adams, N. W. Gordon, Chas. T. Roberson, H. L. Chandler.

Second week—Wm. A. Kernodle, S. L. Shepherd, C. M. Job, J. J. Buisck, A. A. Shaw, D. H. Stewart, S. B. Troxler, R. T. Thomas, J. H. Heath, J. W. Dixon, R. B. Boren, J. T. McCuiston, J. M. Wray, E. M. Halladay, R. E. Bundy, Frank B. Barber, J. N. Willard, J. W. Fouts.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR CHAPEL HILL FOR 1911 SEASON

Special to Telegram.

Chapel Hill, May 1.—Carolina won from Guilford Friday 3 to 2 and by so doing put the championship of the South Atlantic States in such a fix that despite Carolina's failure to appropriate it, no other college in North Carolina or Virginia will venture to claim it.

The student body held a big mass meeting Friday night to welcome the team back from its victorious trip on which it defeated Virginia, Lafayette and Georgetown. Speeches were made by several members of the faculty, notably Professor "Billy" Noble and afterwards the students gathered around a huge bonfire on the campus, singing the college hymn with more feeling than at any time in the past five years.

In the annual Fresh-Soph debate between the Philanthropic and Dialectic literary societies held in Gerrard hall Wednesday night the Dialectic was the winner. The Phi men were S. W. Whiting and L. B. Gunter, the Di's were G. W. Ward and J. C. Busbee. The question was: Resolved, That the Legislative initiative and referendum should be adopted in several states of the Union. These inter-society debates, their importance for the debating training they gave the participants are valuable from an educational standpoint for the whole college. They are always on some question of present day importance and go a long way to keep the University man well informed on current events.

The Yackety Yack for 1911 which will be circulated in a few days is said to be, for taste in color work, arrangement and picture grouping, the finest annual the University has ever produced.

Manager W. F. Hendricks has completed the following schedule for the 1911 football team:

October 7, Wake Forest at Chapel Hill.

October 14, Bingham (Asheville) at Chapel Hill.

October 21, Davidson at Charlotte.

October 28, U. S. S. Franklin at Durham or Chapel Hill.

November 4, V. P. I. at Richmond.

November 11, U. of S. C. at Chapel Hill.

November 18, Washington and Lee at Norfolk.

Thanksgiving Day, University of Virginia at Richmond.

The schedule which was supervised in large part by Mr. Branch Bocoek who will coach the team is much lighter than that of last season. The prospects are that only four or five letter men will be back. Captain Winston will lead a practically new team and many people regard this as a fortunate circumstance. The squad last fall was if anything, a little too experienced. They did not catch on to the new stunts of the faster game as it was played under new rules. Encouraged by the fine showing of the other athletic teams of 1911 and coached by a man who has a fine record of success behind him at V. P. I., the Carolina football team for 1911 will make a fresh start and it is hoped a new record for Carolina.

RAIN IN TEXAS.

Greenville, Texas, May 1.—There was rain today over a large section of the belt. Temperatures continue too low. Cotton will have to be replanted in North Texas, planting and cultivating both being delayed, crops becoming foul with weeds and grass, indications for unsettled weather and more rain.

RAIN IN MISSISSIPPI.

Greenwood, Miss., May 1.—Everything flooded in this section.

COLD WAVE AFFECTS COTTON.

New Orleans, La., May 1.—A rain storm is shown over Southwest Texas and further precipitations is indicated for south Texas. On the whole unsettled conditions are shown to continue over the cotton belt. There is no question but that this cold weather and rain together will cause damage and that much replanting will be necessary. The crop generally is suffering delay, as the cold wave will also affect the central and Eastern States in the next 36 hours.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By J. E. LATHAM.)
New York, May 1.—Weather news was the principal factor today, bullish telegrams from Texas reporting rains and cold weather imparted a firm undertone to the trading and the new crop positions became very firm. At the start the new crop had been relatively easy on over night selling orders but fears of further unfavorable weather changed the tone and when old crop positions were ruling about four points higher showed gains of from 12 to 14 points. It is felt that if the rainy weather should continue into May it would be very harmful or at least prove substantial market factor.

Over Sunday selling orders were absorbed during the first half hour without causing any reaction of consequence, and toward midday the list became firm on continued covering and fresh buying for long account. Shortly after the call extensive buying in the new crop led by New Orleans sent these options above the close of Saturday. The market was quiet during the afternoon but there was no selling pressure and prices held close to the best.

Moravian Church Revival.

Rev. J. Kenneth Pfohl, who is delivering the sermons at the Moravian church during the gospel meetings in progress this week, presented an earnest and uplifting message last evening using as his subject, "Christ the Good Shepherd." His theme was based on the forceful truth that Christ's willingness to suffer for mankind was prompted by what He saved from and what He saved to. Following the sermon Rev. Pfohl sang as a solo "Dear to the heart of the Shepherd." A number manifested an interest in the meeting by requesting the prayers of the Christians. Song service will begin each evening at 7:45, and service proper at 8. Every one will be welcomed to these services.

MILLS BOUGHT BY J. W. FRY

Yesterday in Burlington at public auction the property of the Trollinger Manufacturing Company was sold at public auction, the property being sold to Capt. J. W. Fry, of Greensboro, for the sum of $28,000. The mill property included the mill, 16 brick houses, store and 57 acres of land. The mill is equipped with 3,000 spindles and 143 looms. The property cost $115,000. The creditors will hold a meeting in Greensboro today for the purpose of arranging to close up the deal in order that the mill may not have to close down. The sale is subject to the confirmation of the court and will have to be held for a 10 per cent. bid unless the matter is arranged by the creditors today.

ROCK ME TO SLEEP.

(By ELIZABETH AKERS.)
Backward, turn backward, 'O Time in your flight,
Make me a child again just for tonight!
Mother, come back from the echoless shore,
Take me again to your heart as of yore;
Kiss from my forehead the furrows of care,
Smooth the few silver threads out of my hair;
Over my slumbers your loving watch keep;
Rock me to sleep, mother,—rock me to sleep!

Backward, flow backward, 'O tide of the years!
I am so weary of toil and of tears,—
Toil without recompense, tears all in vain,—
Take them, and give me my childhood again!
I have grown weary of dust and decay,
Weary of flinging my soul-wealth away;
Weary of sowing for others to reap;—
Rock me to sleep, mother,—rock me to sleep!

Tired of the hollow, the base, the untrue,
Mother, 'O mother, my heart calls to you!
Many a summer the grass has grown green,
Blossomed, and faded our faces between,
Yet with strong yearning and passionate pain
Long I tonight for your presence again.
Come from the silence so long and so deep;—
Rock me to sleep, mother,—rock me to sleep!

Over my heart, in the days that are flown,
No other worship abides and endures.—
Faithful, unselfish, and patient, like yours;
None like a mother can charm away pain
From the sick soul and the world-weary brain.
Slumber's soft calms o'er my heavy lids creep;—
Rock me to sleep, mother,—rock me to sleep!

Come, let your brown hair, just lighted with gold,
Fall on your shoulders again as of old;
Let it drop over my forehead tonight,
Shading my faint eyes away from the light;
For with its sunny-edged shadows once more Happy will throng the sweet visions of yore;
Lovingly, softly, in bright billows sweep;—
Rock me to sleep, mother,—rock me to sleep!

Mother, dear mother, the years have been long Since I last listened to your lullaby song;
Sing, then, and unto my soul it shall seem Womanhood's years have been only a dream.
Clasped to your heart in a loving embrace,
With your light lashes just sweeping your face,
Never hereafter to wake or to weep;—
Rock me to sleep, mother,—rock me to sleep!

A LAST WORD.

I am again assailed in yesterday's Record by Mr. R. A. Gray. I have conducted a clean campaign so far, and am not going to allow myself to be provoked into replying to Mr. Gray in kind. I would not reply further at all, but for the fact that I do not believe any man ought to allow his character to be falsely assailed without challenge. Mr. Gray's last statement that he had "never sought to damage any man's character when he had a character," as justification for attacking me, closes the debate, and leaves nothing more for me to say in reply to his article, except that Mr. Gray has not told the truth. I refrain from using stronger language. Of course, I don't expect anybody to vote for me who agrees with Mr. Gray in his estimate of my character.

Respectfully,
E. A. BROWN.

THE SOUL OF WOMAN

Subject of First of Guy
Carlton Lee's Lectures
Here—Two Other Lectures to be Given.

Last night at the Smith Memorial building Dr. Guy Carleton Lee was heard in the first of the series of three lectures he is to deliver here under the auspices of the Barium Springs Orphanage Circle, co-operating with the National Society for Broader Education. "The Soul of a Woman" was the title of this lecture. Dr. Lee said in part:

"The subject of woman is as many-sided as a diamond, and if we are adequately to consider any one phase of it we must choose between the sides. This selection is by no means easy; but since it must be made we will choose woman's influence in the world's advance, and show not only why she was the predominant influence of yesterday, but why she is today and always will be."

Dr. Lee first considered woman in the prehistoric age and said: "We may summarize the position of woman in her first stage of progress by saying that she—save in isolated cases, was throughout the prehistoric world, a chattel, a toy, an animal, owned body and soul, by men, and the first step in woman's upward progress came only when love asserted its independence—its right to be. And it was through the Hebrew that it came—the first evangel of the human heart."

The condition of woman in the East, (India, Assyria, Babylonia, and Arabia) were considered; then the women of Greece and Rome were discussed, and the contributions made by them to the history of their sex were set forth with clearness and precision.

The next part of the lecture was occupied with the influence of the Germanic woman upon history, and the lecturer said: "The Germanic woman, for the first time, gave to the world the idea of woman's physical and moral equity with man. She made herself man's companion in the truest sense of the word. She became man's helpmate as well as the mother of his children. She gave man a home, not a bare room. These things did the good women of the Teutonic lands, the mothers of the race that first settled this country."

After a summary of the contributions made by the women of the ancient world to the progress of their sex, the lecturer swept through the history of the middle ages and came to modern times. He said: "With the advent of modern times came the full opportunity of women. To understand the use she has made of that opportunity we will make an analysis of woman's nature and of her position in the world today."

Never has womankind possessed a more authoritative, convincing and eloquent advocate than Guy Carleton Lee, one who with the touch of a master psychologist, and yet with the understanding that adapts thought and speech to the comprehension of the most unlearned of his audience, proved his assertion that woman in all things is man's equal, and yet in all things differs from man. He considered woman's physical and mental equality and their moral superiority, concluding his clear and powerful exposition thus: "Some of us do not perceive the cause of woman's departure outlook and purpose, but regret cannot prevent woman's progress. Men of narrow minds often grow fearful over the elasticity of woman's mental and moral capacity and seem haunted with a constant dread, lest she shall outgrow her place. There is only one thing to dread in the development of a woman's life, and this is the danger of her being in a place which does not give her sufficient outlet for her true nature. It is only when a woman's nature is starved for sympathy that there is danger of illegitimate outbreaks of her emotions."

"The American woman, more than her sisters of any other nation, has come into her heritage of freedom. The nineteenth century saw the delivery of the negro. The twentieth century shall witness the complete emancipation of woman. "But," continued the orator "great are woman's achievements in the world of business. In it she has conclusively demonstrated her equality with man. But it is through public life that woman's highest ideal is to be won. The lecturer pointed out the tremendous result of woman's work in reform, but asked the question "is woman's highest mission that of the rostrum or of the hustings?" and concluded his argument by saying "Admitting then the adaptability and power of woman in business life and in the work of reform, we will assert that for the great mass of women destiny does not lie in the marts of trade nor upon the platform. The mission of the average woman is to be a home maker, as certainly as it is the mission of the average man to be a home provider and supporter. Yet, exalting the home as I do, not for one moment accept the views of those who cry 'Women's activity in business affairs is wrecking the home.' On the contrary I believe that it has benefited home life. Granting to women the privilege of earning their own living has resulted in more homes and happier ones. But while I rejoice in the strength and freedom that has given the power to support themselves to women, yet I earnestly contend that it is ill-advised for a married woman to accept a business position, provided her husband can support her, even if ever so plainly."

The lecturer proceeded to show not only the fallacy, but the wickedness of those who are attacking the American home and the American family. He demolished the position of those theorists who are attempting to tear down the position which woman has won for herself, and he concluded his masterpiece of logic, illustration and beautiful thought, by saying: "Man today knows that the undercurrent for good that has ever flowed calm and strong beneath all the fret and the evil of the tempest tossed sea of human life, is the eternal spirit of woman's righteousness, the spirit of the woman of the home. Knowing this we may well say that through woman we shall come to realize the secret of abiding happiness, the key to the future of our race, for the heart words of life are Love and Home and Children."

thought, by saying: "Man today knows that the undercurrent for good that has ever flowed calm and strong beneath all the fret and the evil of the tempest tossed sea of human life, is the eternal spirit of woman's righteousness, the spirit of the woman of the home. Knowing this we may well say that through woman we shall come to realize the secret of abiding happiness, the key to the future of our race, for the heart words of life are Love and Home and Children."

PUBLIC LAWS FOR 1911 READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

Will be Sent to Justices of Peace Throughout State—Two Other Volumes to Come From Press Soon—Arrangement a Great Saving.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 1.—The State Building Commission just appointed by Governor Kitchin to have in hand the erection of the quarter of a million dollar State administration building is to continue a corporate body until the building is completed ready for occupancy. The members are by the act creating the commission and making the appropriation forbidden to receive any compensation for their services other than traveling expenses and hotel bills while actually engaged with official duties and these expenses must come from the $250,000 bond issue provided.

The location the commission selects for the building must front the Capital Square. The act specifies that the plans for the building must be such as will admit of additions as the demands of the State require. The bonds cannot be sold below par and temporary loans to meet needs, pending issues of portions of the bonds, are authorized.

There is considerable comment here on the fact that the Governor did not name a single Raleigh man on the commission, although there were a number here especially active in getting through the act.

United States Marshal Claudius Dockery, just back from the United States Court at New Bern, in session the past week, says he has five prisoners to send to the Government penitentiary at Atlanta as a result of the week's work. The most notable is B. F. Sanders, who gets one year and a day for violating the internal revenue laws in various ways. He entered a plea of guilty. Sanders is the man that the Marshal says openly defied the officers of the law for quite a while, carrying a shotgun with the avowed purpose of shooting whoever interfered with him. Deputy Marshall Lilly finally arrested him.

The case against Editor Sanders of The Independent and The Down Home, for the sending of obscene matter in the mails, especially in The Independent, was continued to the October term of court.

The Public Laws passed by the 1911 Legislature are just from the public printer and in the hands of the Secretary of State for immediate distribution to the justices of the peace throughout the State, there being nine thousand of them the State over. Col. Grimes, Secretary of State, procured a special act from the recent Legislature for making three instead of two divisions of the acts—Public, Local Public and Private, each group to have a separate volume.

Heretofore there were two volumes—Public Laws and Private Laws. The Public Laws just out are those having State-wide application. The volume is less than 500 pages and is being gotten to the magistrates and other administrators of the laws very much earlier than ever before.

It is estimated that the State is saved more than $3,000 by this sub-division of the acts through the experience and careful study of Secretary of State Grimes.

State Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young, being notified of the sentence of George Judge in Baltimore, to six years in the penitentiary for burning says Judge was prosecuted in this State for burnings in Wilmington and Rocky Mount and that he seemed to have a mania for starting fires just to see the fire department rush out to fight fire. In Rocky Mount Judge organized a fire department in a mill settlement and then started fires just to give his firemen practice.

State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt says there is such a large and increasing demand for highway engineers pouring into him that it is absolutely impossible for him to anything like meet the demands and that they are coming from every quarter of the State. Many counties are clamoring for engineers to devote their whole time to the work in the county and others want temporary service in the way of making the preliminary surveys and giving suggestions as to routes. Calls are coming from counties in the line of the proposed great Central Highway, Beaufort to the Tennessee line. Also from the counties interested in the Wilmington to Charlotte highway and then from numerous counties interested in the road building generally within their territory. Especially pressing requests come from Robeson, Brunswick, Forsyth, Cherokee. He says the county authorities are realizing more than ever the necessity of this expert engineering assistance in road building that is to be economical and lasting. Of the immediate staff of road engineers of the Geological Survey R. P. Coble is now in Granville county, W. L. Falls is developing the Youngville road in Franklin county; N. C. Hughes in Graham and Alamance counties for special work; W. L. Spoon has just now completed special work in Forsyth and Graham counties.

There is special effort just now to procure for North Carolina co-operation with the United States Department of Forestry, in work for the prevention of forest fires under the provisions of the Webb act which made an appropriation of monies to be expended in the States to this end. State Geologist J. H. Pratt is just back from Washington where he received promising assurances of the probability of this State coming in for this co-operative aid at least in a small way in some of the most exposed sections. He says that if the recent Legislature had not turned down his forestry protection bill this State would have been in position to receive the fullest sort of co-operative aid in this direction.

VERY UNEXPECTED DEVELOPMENTS IN THE LORIMER CASE

Chicago, May 1.—The activities of the Helm committee in probing alleged bribery in connection with the election of Senator Lorimer today brought out three unexpected developments.

It appears that there is a New York contribution to the alleged $100,000 bribery jackpot which the committee has not yet been able to reach because of the State boundary limit to its powers of subpoena.

The committee has reason to believe that the Lorimer seat was sold "over again" and that certain collectors declared a handsome personal dividend on the deal. According to a Springfield man, who is close to the Helm committee, that body, through its investigations, is satisfied that the entire fund used in the interests of the junior Senator did not come from Illinois sources. It has traced one large contribution to the inner official circle of one of the largest trusts this country has ever known, but so far has failed to find the Illinois connecting link that would turn the information to competent evidence.

The general officers of the trust in question all make their headquarters in New York City, and those who are supposed to have guilty knowledge have seemingly made it a point to keep out of the State since the Helm committee went into action.

This is said to have been the reason why several important conferences have been held in a neighboring city, safely on the Indiana side of the line, instead of in Chicago, the national meeting place.

An interesting phase of the alleged bribery matter which has not yet come to public attention as that more money was actually raised among the combinations of capital interested in tariff manipulation than was actually spent at Springfield. In other words, the Helm committee has reason to believe that the seat of Mr. Lorimer was bought for a certain price and "sold" to the interests at a much higher figure.

NEWS OF CHURCHES IN NEW YORK CITY

(By D. V. FRANCIS.)

Special to Telegram.

New York, May 1.—What is to be the relation of the church to the social unrest which is so marked a feature of the Twentieth Century development? This is a question which merits a great deal more attention than it is receiving at the hands of church people. One of the men who does recognize its vital importance and seeks with all his might to impress upon his fellows the necessity for its consideration is Rev. Charles Stelzle, superintendent of the Presbyterian Department of Church and Labor. Mr. Stelzle says:

"The recent census returns indicate that the city will eventually dominate the nation. Whereas the country, as a whole, increased 21 per cent. in population during the past ten years, the cities of 8,000 and over increased 53 per cent; while the population in the country districts is steadily diminishing. The city must solve its own problems. It is folly to imagine that we may send the city's poor to the country, hoping that the country will do for us what we have failed to do for ourselves.

"It is a most significant fact that the church is slowly but surely losing ground in the city, where the masses of people live. If the city is to dominate the nation, and if the church continues to lose in the city, it does not require a prophet to foretell the inevitable result for the churches. It means that they will become a waning influence.

"An attempt has been made to justify the surrender of the churches in lower New York by the statement that lower New York is inhabited exclusively by foreigners. This is not true; but suppose it were. We have been insisting that our gospel is a universal gospel, but, by our removal from lower New York, we are confessing that this gospel is effective for the foreigner only when it is exported to his native land, and that it is of no value when that foreigner comes to a so-called Christian country. A church sold its property in lower New York because there were too many foreigners in the neighborhood, and then sent the proceeds to the Board of Foreign Missions.

"Is our gospel applicable to the needs of the crowd or is its effectiveness diminished as the tenements increase? Can it give relief from the human woes of the masses, or must they look to the agitator outside the church for deliverance? These are questions which the church must frankly answer, for there are other forces which are challenging the church for supremacy in the hearts of the people. Principal among them is socialism. The socialists in lower New York are conducting more open-air meetings than all of the Protestant churches have ever dreamed of doing. Their literature far surpasses the literature of the church. It can be read and understood by the man on the street.

"The spirit of democracy among the people is one of the most significant signs of the times. For many years the people fought for religious democracy, and they won. Then, for 400 years, they shed their blood upon many a battle field as they struggled for political democracy, and they conquered. Today they are fighting the battle for industrial democracy and no human power can stop their onward march.

"Underlying this spirit of social unrest there is a deeply religious spirit. For workingmen are naturally religious, even though that religion may not always be expected in the accepted orthodox manner. It is important to remember that God is not dependent upon the church for the redemption of the world. It came as a severe shock to the Jews when it was told them that God loved the miserably despised Samaritans as he loved the Jews.

"The greatest opposition encountered by such men as Luther, Wycliffe, Knox and Savonarola was among those whose interpretation of the significance of the Kingdom of God was extremely narrow.

When the Church of England seemed to get away from the people, John Wesley was raised up as a rebuke to this old Church, and he afterward organized the Methodist Church. But when the Methodist Church seemed to get away from the people, William Booth came to the front and established the Salvation Army. And even though the Salvation Army today absolutely ignores many of those things which the orthodox church regards as essential, it cannot be denied that it has done great things for the common people. God may yet again raise up a man or a movement as a rebuke to the indifference of the Modern church.

"As a matter of fact, the church is responsible for the spirit of social unrest in the world today. There are no labor troubles in Africa. But if the missionaries that we are sending there are on to their jobs, we will soon hear about social unrest in that dark continent. Some people are telling us that it is the business of the church to keep down social unrest. Rather is the opposite true. It is the business of the church to make people dissatisfied by showing them the greater possibilities which God intended for them."

Quakers have joined in formal protest to the promoters of the Boy Scout movement and the American public against the military character of the new efforts for boys. They declare that such phase of the movement is quite unnecessary and contrary to the general spirit of the time both in America and England, where peace, not war, preparations are on.

In their protest the Quakers say boys can be brought next to nature in outdoor life without the military feature, that they can be trained for citizenship without it, and that the Scout idea passed when American Indians took up land in severalty. They say Boy Scout suggests after the recreative features are attended to, industrial plants in cities and villages, managed by boys under the advice of older persons, where money may be earned for worth-while work and industrial exhibitions and competitions be held annually. With other features, such as cover all advantages offered by the present Scout plans and much more, say these Friends. In the protest the good in the Boy Scout idea is commended, the war feature condemned.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MEET IN RED SPRINGS

Red Springs, May 1.—Red Springs will this week enjoy the pleasure and benefits appertaining to the meeting of an organized, purposeful body in its midst. The Woman's Missionary Union of Fayetteville Presbyterian will hold the twenty-first annual session here, convening Tuesday and adjourning Thursday. In accordance with the aim of all associations and concerted movements, the union plans to present glimpses of its moving spirit; mission work as a world-wide movement and not a narrow, prejudiced move. To this end a program of unusual merit has been arranged, embracing both foreign and home missions, reports and plans for carrying on the work and addresses by men of high repute as speakers, as Dr. W. D. Reynolds of Korea and Rev. Homer McMillan of Atlanta, Ga., secretary of home missions.

Rev. R. Y. Jopling, pastor of the Red Springs Presbyterian church, will welcome the delegates at the opening session Tuesday evening, Wednesday morning will begin the real work of the convention, the union meeting at 9 o'clock.

by Mrs. J. W. McIver. At 10:15 home missions will form the theme for discussion. Rev. W. T. Walker, superintendent, will speak on "Needs of Our Orphanage." Miss Patty B. Watkins of the Southern Presbyterian College faculty, will be heard in a few remarks, "Our Responsibility to Our Brother in Black."

Reports will be received from the church schools of the presbytery, after which Mrs. W. D. Reynolds, wife of Dr. Reynolds, will give a few word pictures of the life and people of Korea.

Meeting again at 2:30 o'clock, the union will be led in prayer by Mrs. J. E. Harvey. Following another and the final business session, Miss Eleanor Sample of the Southern Presbyterian College faculty, assisted by several of the college girls, will present a model missionary meeting on the topic, "Missions in Turkey." This promises to be one of the interesting features of the week.

The union closes its session Thursday evening with an address by Dr. W. D. Reynolds. Dr. Reynolds, with his wife, has just recently returned from missionary work in Korea and his address will be drawn largely from his experiences there. No small part of its interest will be because of the close, personal range with which he has come into contact with the people, the needs and the cause. Though the regular time for the annual meeting of the union is in June, it was changed this year so that the members might have the opportunity of seeing the Southern Presbyterian College equipment—its buildings, faculty and students—the women of the future, who will set the standard in the homes and communities of Fayetteville Presbytery.

Over one hundred and fifty delegates will be entertained in the Presbyterian homes of the town while every day will bring a large number of transient visitors and guests. Many plans are on foot to make their stay a pleasant event.

To Keep Custard From Curdling. When baking custard in the oven set the dish in a dripping pan with a little sweet water in the tin. It is so simple that it seems unnecessary, but it prevents water from gathering in the custard. The temperature of the custard may also be easily changed by adding cold water to the dripping pan. Thus the custard is kept from curdling.

New York Bells to Whom John J. Astor Has Paid Attention.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Where Am I Going? All form a circle and dance around, except one outside, who has a small bell. The dancing lasts only a minute and when the circle stops the one outside rings the bell behind some one in it, saying:

Oh, dear Mistress Gray (Master if a boy).

I've lost my way!

Can you tell me where I'm going?

It's very late.

And I have to wait.

While the cold north wind is blowing.

The one behind whom the bell was rung, who has turned around to face the speaker, says, "Come in and choose a guide," meantime lifting one arm with the arm of the next person, so the outsider can enter the circle.

The outsider goes up to some one and takes him or her by the hand, the rest dancing around the two, with hands held up as high as possible. The two in the circle try to run out through the same opening, and when they have succeeded the first player joins the ring, while the guide takes the bell.

Scaring the Lizard.

Some caterpillars have the power of fixing themselves by their two hind feet to a twig and stretching themselves out as straight as a rod, so that, being in color much like the twig of a tree on the leaves of which they feed, they are not readily observed. The muscular power required for this position of rest is great, and the number of muscles is found to be 4,000. When this falls to deceive a lizard about to devour it the caterpillar will lift its head to frighten its enemy and act like an angry snake, but gradually the lizard comes nearer and nearer with watchful eyes and finally attacks and devours its victim.

WASHINGTON LETTER FROM TELEGRAM'S SPECIAL

(By RALPH M. WHITESIDE.)
Special to Telegram.

Washington, May 1.—How long will the present session of Congress last?
As the late lamented Lord Dundreary would have said "That's one of those things no fellow can find out."

It depends on so many things which are yet to be developed that it is a matter of sheer guesswork. Of course there are some whose guesses are worth more consideration than the guesses of others.

Hon. Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, for example, whose guess is worth while paying attention to. Aside from Speaker Champ Clark and Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee I know of no one who is more likely to be in rapport with what is going on than the gentleman from Enfaula.
Here is what he says about it.

"I don't pretend to have any better knowledge on the matter than other members of the House and whatever views I have are merely what might be termed dope. The House will complete its program of legislation by the end of May, and the Senate then will hold the key to the situation, so far as length of session is concerned. It is my opinion that the Senate will not pass the Canadian reciprocity measure nor any tariff bills at the session. Senator Cummins and his crowd, I believe plan to delay favorable action on these measures, and will, I think, try to bring about an adjournment of Congress about the last of August, without passing reciprocity or anything else, waiting for the report of the tariff board. This board, they expect, will be ready with information about October 1, and then it may be suggested that the President can call another extraordinary session of Congress to act finally upon reciprocity and other tariff matters. This, understand is just 'dope' but I rather think it is the program of the insurgents in the Senate."

This may be as Judge Clayton says,
"dope" but it is a fine line of "dope"
worth giving careful consideration.

It is borne out by the very leisurely way in which the Senate is getting ready for business. If that august body was really anxious to work it would not have taken a month to fix up the committees.

Whether the House will consent to adjourn or take a long recess with all its work hung up is a question. I have heard some influential men in the House declare that they are prepared to stay here until the regular session begins if this is necessary to force action by the Senate.

The New House of Representatives will consist of 433 members. This has been definitely decided. The ratio of representation will be 211,877 as against 192,000 as at present. The forty-two additional members are distributed as follows: Sixteen States, Alabama, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, and West Virginia, will gain one member each; five States, Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Texas and Washington, will gain two members each; two States, California, and Oklahoma, will gain three members each; one State, Pennsylvania, will gain four members, and one State, New York, will gain six members.

If the House were held to its present membership, twelve States would lose a total of thirteen Representatives, Missouri would lose two, and Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Nebraska, North Carolina, Ohio, Tennessee, Virginia, and Wisconsin would lose one each.

These thirteen losses would have been gains to New York, Pennsylvania, California and Washington.

The thirteen States that would lose under the old apportionment are powerful enough, in combination, to cause the Congress to disregard its best judgment and to increase the membership of the House in spite of the fact that that body already is too large to permit the orderly discussion and dispatch of the public business.

"There has been many a tragedy written in the lives of men in Congress that never became known," remarked Laff Pence, formerly in the House from Colorado, now a resident of New York.

"In 1894, at the last session of the Fifty-fourth Congress—you will remember the Republicans had reclaimed the House from the Democrats—among the veterans who had been swept out of public life by the Republican landslide were 'Dick' Bland and Holman, of Indiana. They had been members of the House for a quarter of a century, and it was their first defeat. They were seated in the Democratic cloakroom talking. You may imagine that there was much gloom in that part of the House, while the Republicans were shouting with laughter at the other end.
Speaker Reed passed, and, as his custom he stopped to joke with the Democrats.
When he approached Holman and Bland, the latter spoke up 'Tom I have been telling Holman that I am a better financier than he.' Reed wanted to know if he based his assertion on his fight for free silver.

"No," said Bland. 'Holman and I started out in public life 25 years ago.
Each had about the same amount of worldly goods, 160 acres apiece, though, of course, in different parts of the country. Now Holman tells me that he is still paying the interest on his mortgage, and I—well, I paid the last installment of my mortgage two years ago.
It is on that I base my claim as a better financier.'"

"Think of it," said Mr. Pence, "more than a quarter of a century members of the House and their property still encumbered. As Reed passed out his face wore a serious expression—he liked both Bland and Holman immensely—and as he said to a Republican friend:
'What books could be written here on this floor.' The little pleasantries of Bland was a tragedy in the mind of Speaker Reed. And it was."

As a guest of the United States and on its invitation, Admiral Togo of Japan, will visit America on his way home from the Coronation of King George, to which he is credited as special ambassador. General Nogi, another Hero of the Japanese-Russian war, and also a special ambassador, was unable to accept.

Admiral Togo will be accompanied by members of the suite that will be with him at the coronation.

The United States has manifested its friendship for Japan in this invitation.
It is expected that its acceptance and the character of the reception which will be accorded to the distinguished visitor by Americans will do much to clear away doubts of the Pacific intentions of both nations.

President Taft is no stranger to Admiral Togo. In the Oriental travels of Mr. Taft, in official capacity as representative of the United States, he has met and received many courtesies from the Japanese sea soldier.

The Senator from Mississippi, John Sharp Williams, was smoking a long, black pipe in the lobby of the New Eb-bitt. A tall handsome young man approached.

"You don't remember me," said the young man; "but I know you. My name is Luke Lea."

"Why, hello, Lea," said the former leader of the House minority. "Of course, I remember you." Then turning to a friend seated beside him, the Senator said: "This young man is the baby of the Senate, and he's under my special care. I hereby adopt you right now," he added, addressing the Tennessee senator.

"That's the best news I have heard since I have reached Washington," remarked the Senate baby. "You can bet I'm going to take advantage of the offer."

All of which may be a tip to some of the new Senate members of the House. "It's a good thing for a new one to tie to one of the old fellows," remarked Senator Lea.

The two got to telling stories, and something said reminded the Mississippian of this one, which, though perhaps old, bears repeating:

"You know the late Tom Reed had the greatest fund of dry wit of any man
I know. One time in the Waldorf Reed, and the late Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, and former Ambassador Joe Choate were dining in the New York hostelry. The time came for the wine, and Choate turned down his glass, remarking:

"I'm getting along in years, but I have yet to take a drink; neither do I smoke or chew."

"Wolcott sighed and said, 'I wish I could say that.'"

"Reed's eyes glistened, but he didn't crack a smile, as, in his inimitable New England drawl, he said:

"Waal: 'Why don't you say it?
Choate did.'"

and doctor's medicine seemed as useless.
Finally we tried Dr. King's New Dis-

ALDRICH SORRY PARTY IS SPLIT

Says He Wishes President Had Solid Backing.

G. O. P. ON THE DEFENSIVE.

Senator Penrose Says Senate Will Take Its Time Considering Canadian Arbitration — Difficulty of Seeing Postmaster General Hitchcock Is Standing Washington Joke.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 1.—(Special).— Former Senator Aldrich regrets the division in the Republican ranks over reciprocity. "I am sorry to see it," he remarked. "I would have preferred to have had the bill put through by Republican votes so that there would have been a solid party behind the president. If the bill does the damage to the farmers which is predicted it can very easily be repealed or amended. It is not to be the law for all time. When the Republicans return to power in both branches of congress they can amend it if necessary."

Mr. Aldrich says that his work on the monetary commission is the most important of his career. He is giving considerable attention to the subject now and hopes to be able to present a comprehensive plan for the regular session of congress in December.
Meanwhile there is liable to be attacks on all kinds of commissions and especially the commission of which the former Rhode Island senator is chairman. Several senators have laid plans with that object in view.

"On the Defensive."

Even the most zealous administration men in the senate are not very well satisfied with the extra session.

"We are on the defensive in this tariff matter," remarked Senator Penrose, who is to be chairman of the finance committee, "and we are in no hurry." He was speaking particularly of the organization of the committees as such organization delayed all other business.

The Republicans seem to be perfectly willing to take all the time they want, especially those opposed to the Canadian agreement as they believe opposition to the measure is growing.

Trying to See Hitchcock.

It is a standing joke in Washington that no one can ever see Hitchcock, the postmaster general. In fact it sometimes gets to be a great mystery as to where he is hidden. During the last session of congress Weeks of Massachusetts mentioned to Burke of South Dakota that Hitchcock was one of his constituents.

"He is, is he?" answered Burke.
"Now, Weeks, I'll make a bet of a dinner with you. Hitchcock is one of your constituents; you are chairman of the committee on postoffices and that ought to help you get a hearing.
Now you and I will start out from the capitol together in separate cabs, you to the postoffice department to see Hitchcock. I will go and see all the other eight cabinet officers and drop in at the White House for a little chat with the president, and I'll bet you that I will get back before you do."

The bet was not made. "I would have won," said Burke afterward. "It would have taken Weeks all that time to find Hitchcock and as much longer to get in after he had found him."

Another Washington Pastime.

"Make war on the fly" is the cry in Washington now, and it affords a new pastime for the people of the capital.
It will be kept up for many years, for Washington seldom drops anything when it once gets started after it. I say "after," for there are so many things which Washington is still pursuing that the city is in the "after" class.

The "swat the fly" movement will soon take its place with the following old time friends: Changing the date of the inauguration; building a hall which will accommodate the inaugural ball; cleaning snow off the sidewalks; increasing the salaries of government clerks; making it the most beautiful city in the world; changing the name of Sixteenth street to something more striking; carrying out the park commission plan; making Pennsylvania avenue a really grand boulevard.

Hate Off to Senator Lodge.

Whenever a Massachusetts man gets in the way of Senator Lodge the senator finds a place for him in the federal administration. Thus it happened that Mr. Meyer, now secretary of the navy, was sent on several foreign missions and has had two cabinet positions since he became tired of foreign service, all because he was considered a dangerous competitor for Senator Lodge in the senate.

Then there was Moody, representing a district where Augustus P. Gardner, Lodge's son-in-law, lived. Moody was tucked away in the cabinet, and Gardner came to the house. This all goes to show that Lodge knows his business.

All this is preliminary to the suggestion that Curtis Guild goes abroad from Massachusetts. Lodge named Guild for vice president in the last national convention. Guild is one of the coming men. But perchance Guild was in the way of Senator Crane. The junior senator must not be overlooked when discussing shrewd New England politicians.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

TWINS

Knocked Two Home Runs and Took First Game From the Patriots.

Winston-Salem, May 1.—Two home runs by O'Halloran gave today's game to the Twins. In the first with a man on second he sent the ball flying over the left field fence. In the fourth with bases full he repeated his former stunt. In view of the exceedingly high wind the game from a fielding standpoint was far above the average. Wallace, who twirled for the Patriots, was in bad form for the first four innings but after that he steadied down and pitched fine ball. Swindell allowed seven scattered hits, but they came at inopportune times. Score by innings: R. H. E. Winston . . . 220 400 00x—8 9 1 Greensboro . . . 100 000 000—1 7 2 Batteries—Swindell and Galvin, Wallace and Nippert.

Spartanburg Takes Another.

Spartanburg, May 1.—Seven runs in the fourth from a pitcher just in the box made the local lead too large for Greenville to overcome, though hard effort was made. Score by innings: R. H. E. Spartanburg . . . 104 710 00x—13 14 2 Greenville . . . 200 002 040—8 11 3 Batteries—Meyers, Vicory and Westlake; Jamison, Martin and Ochs.

Hornets Defeat Electricians.

Greenville, S. C., May 1.—Anderson, S. C., May 1.—A home run by Coutte in the ninth with three on bases gave Charlotte today's game 10 to 8. The locals were in the lead from the sixth and the excitement was high. Score by innings: R. H. E. Charlotte . . . 000 103 006—10 12 1 Anderson . . . 030 212 000—8 10 2 Batteries—Hargrave and Canny, Walters and Cummings, Finn, Kuse, Farmer and Klock.

DIAMOND DUST

Ain't it awful?

Why not spell that Winston pitcher's name S-w-i-n-d-e-l-l-e.

We advise Winston fans to crow while they have the opportunity, for opportunity knocks but once. Make the most of it.

Glad there is only one of them Swindle boys.

Wait till "Rube" gets a whack at them.

When the report of that fifth inning came in it nearly took away the breath of the waiters at this end of the line.

Guess Manager Doyle has a feeling near akin to that some of the candidates in Greensboro municipal fight will have tonight. Mr. Doyle has somewhat the better of it, though, for he can get another whack at them tomorrow, while the defeated candidates will have to wait two years or work the "recall."

It's up to Greensboro to follow Charlotte in the contest the Twins. Let them have the first and then snatch the other two of the series.

Monday always was our "Jonah day."

Charlotte has landed Tony Walters.

Yesterday games around the circuit ought to have pleased those who favor the plan of "Hit and run," with high scores.

Will some one please tell us how long it has been since Charlotte was at the top of the percentage column before?

Fifty-one runs in the Carolina Association was going some yesterday. Guess that it is the season's record for one day in the league.

Just to make this thing seem more natural Father McKevitt or Scout Beusse ought to be on some of the teams in this league.—Charlotte Chronicle.

That seems to be a hitting bunch Manager Doyle has gathered at the Gate City, or else the twirlers for the Musicians are not up to the standard.—Charlotte Chronicle.

TEAM MAKES GOOD START.

Local fans are highly gratified at the showing made by the Patriots during the initial series and the team's outlook for the season. None of the clubs of the circuit start into the season with brighter prospects.

The players are young, yet old enough not to be rattled easily. Especially noteworthy is the strong infield composed of Fuller at first, Clapp at second, Doyle at third and Corwin at short. The outfield also will compare favorably with other teams of the circuit.

In the three games with the Musicians here, the Patriots made only 3 errors, while the total for the Spartans was 13. The total hits were 26 for Greensboro and 21 for Spartanburg. The number of runs in the three games was: Greensboro 23; Spartanburg 9.

Pitching Staff All Right.

As compared with the pitching staff of the Spartans, the Greensboro club has much the better twirlers. Aside from Smith the Musicians afford no one who was not easily hit by the Patriots. On the other hand both Eldridge and Fisher were effective against the Spartanburg team, while Morrissey would have won his game but for an unlucky drive of Walker's which was barely missed by Lowman. Houser was put in the box yesterday, but on account of a bad arm asked to be taken out. Wallace has so far not had a trial in a regular league game of the club.

The A. and M. College team will play a game of ball today at 3:30 o'clock with the strong team of Biddle University, the Presbyterian college at Charlotte. Biddle has one of the best negro teams in the country and has not lost a game this season.

May 5th A. and M. goes to Charlotte for the second game of the series with Biddle.
